Woman Slayer Being Hunted At Massillon

Mrs. Edith Christman, 47,
Kills Estranged Husband
And Sister-In-Law

POLICE BELIEVE
WOMAN SUICIDED

Start Dragging Reservoir
And Creek Near Scene Of Tragic New Year's Shooting

(International News Service)
CANTON, O., Jan. 2.—A will penned a scant few hours before she allegedly shot and killed her estranged, well-to-do husband and his invalid sister
today led Stark county authorities to believe that Mrs. Edith Christman, 47, may have committed suicide.

Search for Mrs. Christman, abandoned by a posse at nightfall, was renewed today with the dragging of the Massillon reservoir and Sippo creek, near the Christman farm home.

Mrs. Christman, according to Deputy Sheriff George Daily, walked from Massillon to the Christman
farm home, a mile from that city, accompanied her husband, Roy, as he stepped from a chicken house. She and Christman started to walk arm-
in-arm toward the house when Daily
said she turned on her husband
and shot him in the abdomen.

Leaving him mortally wounded in the barnyard, she went into the house, police said, and shot and killed the invalid sister, Iva Christ-man, 38. The latter's 81-year-old mother, Elizabeth, witnessed the slaying. Authorities said the mother
probably was spared a similar fate
because she fainted.

Following her footprints, Deputy Daily traced the woman to a wooded section northeast of Massillon.
A piece of her dress was found clinging to a barbed wire where she had crawled through a fence.

Although ascribing a blanket motive of domestic difficulties, authorities were unable to learn the exact cause of the shootings.

With New Year's Day over, most of the Christmas decorations have been taken down and stored away
for next year.

All the nice ice which the skaters were using Saturday on the Neshannock, disappeared when the weather warmed up and the water
in the creek rose due to rain and melting snow.

Ice formed to a depth of three inches on local streams during the recent cold snap, it was observed yesterday.

Judging from the many inquiries
being made during the past few days relative to the date school opened after the holidays, Pa News imagines there were many who did not show up when the last bell rang this morning. Many people were of the opinion that school did not resume until tomorrow.

stition that if the Christmas tree is

LaGuardia Starts His Administration As New York Mayor

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Snap and energy were injected into governmental affairs in New York City
today as the new fusion administration which has succeeded Tammany, buckled down in earnest to the business of running things for the next four years.

Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia set
the tempo by showing up at City hall at 9:15 a. m., causing the few remaining Tammany holdovers
around the building to gasp.

At police headquarters similar activity prevailed. The new chief of police, Major-General John F.
O'Ryan, who commanded the 27th division in the World war, was on the job bright and early. In the ears of the city's 17,000 policemen
and detectives rang his warning
that he expected the department to display a morale in its war on crime
such as was shown by the American troops in France.

Other department heads reported
for duty at 9 a. m. or thereabouts.
Nothing like it was seen during the sixteen years that Tammany was in power.

La Guardia broke a precedent at once. Immediately upon reaching his desk he sent word he would see the press. Reporters and photographers trooped in.

"Clear out all these phones and push buttons on my desk," he told a secretary. "Can't work with them
cluttering up the place."

WILL ROGERS says:

(Special To The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Jan. 2.— Everybody who comes to California sees a lot of great wide, rocky, sandy, creek and river beds, with not a hot water bottle full of water in 'em, and they are a big joke. They wonder what they are for.

Well yesterday they showed what they were for. Us
old settlers, (that have been here five or ten years) never saw anything like it. We are so tickled to see rain out here,
that we put on a big parade in honor of it.

I am writing this before I go to the big game today. I am about half mad because Nicholas Murray Butler didn't come out here with his team. Somebody ought to have told him it was a Republican convention.
That's his principal relaxation.

Liquor Store Not Open Here

Produce Street State Store
Not Completed This Morning

NO STORES OPEN
IN THIS DISTRICT

New Castle's state liquor store did not open today for business for several reasons. First there is no liquor on hand yet and you can't run a liquor store without liquor. Second,
the installation of chandeliers and some odds and ends of painting are not completed, and third, the state has not yet taken the building over from the contractor.

If the chandeliers arrive today
and are put in place, and the state inspector, J. M. McCracken, of Leeburg, formally takes over the building, and the stock of liquor arrives from Pittsburgh, the store
may open on Wednesday but this is doubtful. It would seem more likely that liquor will not be available until Thursday, January 4.

The windows of the building, save
the large windows in the front, six feet from the ground, have the net
appearance of a well kept penitentiary. Steel bars, five-eighths of an inch in thickness, have been electrically welded as a screen over the cellar and back windows.

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 2.—
Death and destruction rode a
New Year's flood into Los Angeles county and as the deluge tapered off today the toll
was 31 known dead, with 27
other persons officially reported missing.

Property damage will total mil-

Beach and Venice at the seashore to Montrose and Lancaster that nestle
in the high above Pasadena.

Gov. James Rolph, Jr., today ordered all available civil works and other relief funds to be used in flood stricken areas.

San Gabriel Overflows
The San Gabriel river overflowed
its banks in the Long Beach district,
where the earthquake force was

LESLIE BEGINS WORK AS COUNTY DETECTIVE

Former Official Resumes Duties

Leslie Says Co-operation Of All Law Enforcing Bodies To Be Aim

FIRST CASE IS ROAD HOUSE FIGHT

When A. Sharp Leslie took the oath as County Detective on New Year's Day, he was not taking up a job that was new to him. Rather he was a veteran returning to the wars. Few county detectives in the past twenty-five years have come to the office as well prepared for the work as has Leslie.

Just seventeen years ago he took the oath of office as county detective for the first time. Clyde V. Alley was District Attorney, the United States had not yet entered the World War, Lawrence County was just preparing to return to the open saloon after five years of local prohibition, and Judge S. Plummer Emery had just taken the oath of office as judge of Lawrence County.

Served Two Years

Mr. Leslie served two years as County Detective and was succeeded by John Trusel who came in with District Attorney George W. Muse. Following his two years service as county detective Mr. Leslie was elected constable of the Third Ward and served in this post until about two years ago.

During the regime of District Attorney J. Elder Bryan, Mr. Leslie served as an assistant to the county detective and held over for about a year in the administration just passed, that of District Attorney John S. Powers. When H. M. Lee was made county detective in January 1930, he was confronted with more spectacular murder cases than had been on one docket of the county for years and needed the experience of Mr. Leslie to guide him through.

"Seems just like coming back home" said Mr. Leslie as he sat down after taking the oath. "Seems but a little time since I took the oath before and the same man, Ralph M. Campbell administered it. Knowing the work of the office as I do, I

THIRTY ONE DEAD IN RECORD FLOOD NEAR LOS ANGELES

persons battled their way in automobiles to Pasadena to witness the annual tournament of roses New Year's Day parade. Among the spectators was former president Herbert Hoover and his family.

The 31 known dead were drowned. Some were trapped in automobiles. Others were caught in their homes between narrow ravines and "washers" down which torrents raged from hilly areas.

Some Are Trapped

Persons fleeing their homes after being warned of the oncoming rush of muddy waters were trapped in the swirling torrents, knocked unconscious by boulders, and drowned. Several were drowned when they drove their automobiles into creeks after bridges were washed out.

New Year's eve merry-makers had difficulties reaching their homes after celebrations at hotels and cafes. Hundreds of automobiles were put out of commission at intersections transformed into lakes. Swirling waters trapped one celebrant in his car near the Boechman Gardens night club, and he was drowned.

The brunt of the disaster fell upon Montrose, a suburb of 2500 population, scene of a recent forest fire that denuded the nearby hills. The entire Montrose area may have to be evacuated.

The next heaviest suffered was the Venice section near Santa Monica. Streets were washed out and 1500 Venice homes were under water. Lifeguards rescued residents from their inundated dwellings.

Fear for Screen Player

La Crescenta, Cal., Jan. 2.—Fears for the safety of Victor McLaglen, noted screen player, were expressed by friends today in the wake of the storm when a neighbor reported that the actor had been missing from his La Crescenta home for the last 15 hours. Four automobiles said to be owned by McLaglen were dashed away in the storm, according to the report.

FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE PLAN IN EFFECT TODAY

ation of the corporation was one of the most significant and far reaching banking policies ever inaugurated by any nation and would end this country's banking difficulties which have resulted in the loss of many billions in recent years.

Unified System

Eventually the effect of the corporation is to result in a unified banking system for the United States. All non-member banks of the Federal Reserve system must have filed application for entrance into the corporation by July 1.

All non-member banks must have qualified for admission to the Federal Reserve system by July 1, 1936. This will set up a system of banking under the strict supervision of the federal government that never before has existed in the United States. In the opinion of banking officials it will eliminate the bulk of the heavy losses that have occurred in the last few years from bank failures.

Enormous Deposits

Bank deposits of the United States at the end of last month to about $42,000,000,000. Just what percent of the deposits have been insured was not ascertained. However, Cummings said that 97 percent of the bank accounts were insured 100 percent.

an "Ah, shucks!" gesture. And then he turned to one of the stenographers and asked: "Now, where is the most important file in city hall?" She didn't "get" him.

"The wastebasket," he snapped. He gathered in a huge batch of congratulatory telegrams. He handed them to another stenographer and remarked: "Say 'thanks'." A few minutes later, after perusing more mail and telegrams, he instructed: "Send regrets."

Meanwhile he was answering a bombardment of questions from the press and posing for pictures. He talked about making the aviation policemen fly; of investigating graft; of ashes removal, et cetera and then:

"Anything else, boys? anything else, got to get to work."

LIQUOR STORE NOT OPEN HERE

Store, Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board.

Before any sales can start Mr. McCracken must inspect the building and sign it for the contractor. When the liquor arrives from the Pittsburgh warehouse, each must be checked to see that all bottles are unbroken and then each bin will be labeled with the code number it will bear.

Manager Louis Guntion Assistant Manager David P. Leonardson and the six clerks of the store are ready to start any time. The bins are in place, the counter and railing is up and what finishing touches are needed can be done today.

It should not be difficult to get the liquor. There is only one store in Allegheny county opening today, and none in Lawrence, Beaver, Butler or Mercer counties.

phatetical units which compose the Roosevelt drive toward recovery. They will be talking largely for the record, however, for they realize that the administration has the votes to put through any program it desires.

Monetary policy was not discussed at the three-hour conference which the president had with his legislative lieutenants, and this issue looms up as the biggest question mark on the congressional calendar on the eve of assembly.

Silver Bloc Looms

The most formidable bloc in congress is the silver bloc. It boasts of 27 open and avowed adherents in the senate, with a number of others sympathetic to the movement. Names have not been counted in the house, but the silverites claim they can command a majority for completely remonetizing silver at a ratio of from 16 to 20-to-1.

That claim should be qualified, however, by adding "if the White House doesn't put its foot down." Thus far, the White House hasn't put its foot down. Nor has the White House indicated its approval of the silverites' program.

The president has maintained an enigmatic silence on the issue which cannot continue far into the session. The time is coming, and before long, when Mr. Roosevelt is going to have to disclose in greater detail his attitude on the age-old issue of silver.

Steering Committee Meets

Prior to the White House conference, there was a meeting of the Democratic Steering committee of the senate. There was a thorough discussion of legislative proposals, in the course of which Senator Wheeler (D) of Montana, as leader of the silver bloc, made an impassioned plea for free coinage.

It was significant, however, that the steering committee came to no conclusions other than a sort of general one to the effect that the president was to be upheld on all issues. That afforded some indication of how completely Mr. Roosevelt is in the saddle as the session opens.

The presidential mastery may be broken to some extent as the session advances into quarrels and the inevitable conflicts but for the moment it is almost complete. The president and the Democratic leaders spoke hopefully of adjournment by April, or at latest by May. Such talk, however, at the beginning of a session means little, for congress, once in session, usually displays reluctance to quit and go home.

President Roosevelt cancelled all appointments for today and tomorrow and remained in his study in the White House proper, finishing up the messages he will deliver this week—the regular message, which is expected to go to congress tomorrow, and the budget message which will follow on Thursday.

Mr. Roosevelt has not decided whether to deliver his message in person. He is considering going up to address the Senate and House in joint session, the first decision which has been reached, and probably will not be until tomorrow morning. Congressional leaders made preparations this morning for a personal visit.

"Get Acquainted" Day At City Hall

New Councilmen Greeted By Employees Of Their Departments

Today was "Get acquainted day" in city hall as the two new councilmen and city controller were at their desk bright and early, Joe Alexander as purchasing agent and head of the department of parks and property, B. F. Butler as superintendent of the department of streets and public improvements and Earl Wimer, controller.

Not all the city hall folk attended the inaugural yesterday but today they called at the various offices to greet the councilmen and city controller and they in turn asked questions pertaining to the various affairs connected with the departments.

They were also given information by Councilman D. O. Davies, Hoyland and also Mayor Mayne. Former Councilman Louis Genkinger and Controller Greer were in city hall for brief visits this morning.

AN ENCOURAGING SIGN

A PARTICULARLY bright spot in the present industrial picture is that made by the automobile industry as the manufacturers prepare for the annual auto shows.

Continued improvement in this industry is predicted, with consequent beneficial effects throughout a wide variety of other lines. According to John Warner, president of the Society of Automotive engineers, more than $1,500,000,000 will be spent next year by automobile manufacturers for raw materials, parts and labor. Large additional amounts will go for advertising. A 50 per cent increase in production for 1934 was forecast, which would mean a total output of 3,000,000 motor units.

These figures and estimates are impressive and encouraging not alone because of their relation to the automobile industry but also because they give some idea of the extensive field outside of this industry which will be affected. Every section of the country has one or more industries the prosperity of which is related to automobile manufacture. A few more figures will make clear the far-reaching importance of the motor industry as an aid to general prosperity. The industry uses 43 per cent of the total output of plate glass made in the United States, 53 per cent of the upholstery leather, 54 per cent of the malleable iron, 80 per cent of the rubber and 85 per cent of as gasoline. Eleven per cent of the gainfully employed persons in the United States are on its pay rolls.

It can be readily seen from these figures that any extensive improvement in automobile manufacture will be of tremendous help in getting the nation back on its feet. The buying public's interest in cars is said never to have been greater than at present. Tangible evidence of this is expected to be seen at the automobile shows.

MARRIAGE OR CAREER?

The old argument about the conflicting claims of marriage and a career in a woman's life seems to have come to some sort of a climax in the alienation of affections damage suit filed recently against a New York corporation by an indignant husband.

The husband complains that his wife was a branch manager for this corporation and that he sought to induce her to quit work and devote all her time to their home.

But the corporation, he asserts, "exerted an improper influence" over her, so that she decided to keep the job and let her home take a secondary place. So now he wants $200,000 in damages.

Of all the odd lawsuits, this one surely is one of the oddest. And yet it does serve to touch up that old marriage-versus-career argument; and it probably will provide lawyers with a chance for giving the argument a thorough airing in the courts.

ASSASSINATION OF RUMANIAN PREMIER

Violence is not unusual in Eastern Europe, but the assassination of the Rumanian Premier is none the less deplorable. Mr. Duca had been in office only a little more than a month, but he represented a new regime from which much was expected. As head of the National Liberty party, he was a logical successor to the Bratianus, the elder of whom was responsible for the independence of the country in 1877.

When he took office Mr. Duca issued a statement explaining briefly the policy he meant to pursue. The many difficulties that confront Rumania, he said, could be overcome only by orderly administration, discipline and respect for the authority of the state.

This seems to be the spirit of the people at present. The National Peasant party has been discredited by events, and the way was open for a change. Rumania will be fortunate if she finds a fit successor to Mr. Duca.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

MAKE EXPERIENCE BE YOUR TEACHER

Maybe you forget your troubles too easily.

In your efforts to dismiss troubles, perhaps you lose the impressions they might make and which would be helpful to you in future.

Perhaps you need severe lessons to make you more cautious.

Many of the hardships and painful experiences you have had were the result of a repetition of thoughtless mistakes.

If you had given thought enough to the cause of your troubles at the very first, and prepared yourself against their recurrence it would have been better for you.

Don't believe too much in the old saw—"what is to be, will be."

Such philosophy is apt to lesson your efforts to overcome obstacles.

Every adverse circumstance carries with it a lesson.

Learn it—as it comes.

Then you will be better fortified against misfortune or bad luck, as you are inclined to call it.

Life is not so much a matter of luck as it is remembering the cause of illness or disaster and avoiding similar circumstances.

Every adverse experience should be valuable to you.

Mass Production of Debts, Too

By LESLIE EICHEL

Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—There is no Santa Claus for Uncle Sam. Those who could pay income tax in large amounts pass the Christmas holidays by translating their profits for the year into "losses."

First, there are stock sales to establish losses against capital gains. Then there are transfers of bonds at present low prices for comparable bonds at low prices. That is a favorite scheme this year. If one has a good bond, for which he paid more than the present price, he "sells" it, but at the same time picks up a bond of equivalent value, at its present price. The only loss is to Uncle Sam on income taxes.

The same is true of high grade stocks.

In brief, one can establish losses without the loss of a cent, either in capital or in interest. The market is ideal for that this year.

In some instances, stocks are higher this year than last. Or higher than they were at their lowest. That, too, works against the government. Persons sell those

President Asks That All Legislation Other Than Recovery Measures Be Sidetracked

HAVE CONFERENCE IN WHITE HOUSE

Congress Plans To Adjourn In May; Largest Peace-time Budget In History Planned

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Congress will pass legislation necessary to the National Recovery Program and adjourn early in May Democratic leaders predicted today, following a conference with President Roosevelt at the White House, late last night.

The president called eight party leaders to the executive mansion and asked that all legislation not contributing directly to the success of the recovery program be sidetracked. At the same time the president unfolded details of the largest peacetime budget ever to be submitted to congress.

Monetary Policies Not Discussed Following the parley the leaders declared flatly that monetary policies aside from the budget were not taken up.

Vice-President Garner and Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, senate leader, headed the delegation at the White House, along with Speaker of the House Rainey and House Democratic Leader Rep. Byrnes of Tennessee. Others attending were Senators Pat Harrison of Mississippi, chairman of the senate finance committee and Carter Glass of Virginia, senate appropriations committee chairman, Rep. Doughton of North Carolina, house ways and means committee chairman, and Rep. Buchanan of Texas, house appropriations committee chairman.

Pledge Support All participants in the conference declared the session would devote itself to recovery measures. Robinson said he expected harmony, but would not discuss proposed monetary demands certain to come from the senate bloc seeking important monetary changes such as direct inflation and complete remonetization of silver.

The president's budget message will probably be sent to congress on Friday, following the dispatch to Capitol Hill on Thursday of a comparatively brief report on the state of the union. This latter, according to officials close to the executive, will be of a general nature, advising of the progress thus far made in the recovery program and outlining future plans. Details will be left to special messages dealing with the different subjects involved, which Mr. Roosevelt is expected to send to congress from time to time.

Johnstown Man Held In Jail

Daniel Howitt, 28, Forced Man And Woman To Steal Gas; Polk Inmate Captured

(International News Service) GREENSBURG, Pa., Jan. 2.—Daniel Howitt, 28, of Johnstown was held in jail today on charges of larceny of gasoline and violating the firearms act following a hearing before a justice of the peace on allegations growing out of a two-state taxicab drive.

Howitt was brought before Justice John Brown of Blairsville and ordered committed to jail. Kenneth Maze, 23, Portsmouth, O., and Lucille Weimer, 22, also of Portsmouth, both of whom allege Howitt forced them to accompany him on the trip through parts of Ohio and Pennsylvania were permitted to return to their homes.

Inmate Captured Fred Barringer, 19, an escaped inmate of the state hospital for feeble-minded at Polk, seized in a raid by police on an isolated house at Josephine, where it is charged Howitt imprisoned the captives overnight, was returned to that institution. The charges brought by Indiana county against the Johnstown suspect are for gas he is alleged to have forced Maze to steal at the point of a gun during the long ride.

World Renowned German Novelist Taken By Death

(International News Service) VIENNA, Jan. 2.—Jacob Wasserman, world-renowned German novelist, will be buried in Austria, it was decided today, and thus will continue in death the exile which he had been forced by German Nazis because he was a Jew. Wasserman died of angina pectoris yesterday at his villa at Alt-Ausee, near Graz. He was 60. Among Jacob Wasserman's best known works were "The World's Illusion," "Renate Fuchs," "Gold," "The Maurizius Case," "Faber, Or The Lost Years," "Wedlock," and "Caspar Hauser."

P. R. R. Retires Two Engineers

Cauffield And Cummins End Long Service On E. & A. Division

VAN NORT TO GIVE THEM CERTIFICATES

New Year's Day brought almost another sort of a life to two veteran locomotive engineers of the Pennsylvania railroad here because it brought to them, after almost a half-century of service behind the throttle, a rest to which they are not so well accustomed.

The year-end retirements took William J. "Calculator" Bill Cauffield, 610 North Liberty street, seventh ward, and Bartholomew "Batty" Cummins, an Erie man, out of the engine cabs for good—Cauffield entered as a fireman on June 24, 1891 and Cummins climbed into the engine to take the same job on October 21, 1887.

Both Born Same Day A striking coincidence is the fact that both men were born on the very same day—December 17, 1868—and both were two of the best known engineers on the Erie & Ashtabula division.

It was on September 14, 1897 that Cummins was promoted to the engineer's side of the locomotive while Cauffield received his promotion on February 1, 1900.

While an Erie resident, Cummins has a wide circle of friends here and has a son, Reidler B. Cummins, another engineer, living on Dewey avenue, Cauffield's acquaintance is wide.

Superintendent C. W. Van Nort will present to the two vets their "roll of honor" certificates, bearing President W. W. Atterbury's own signature, within the next few days at a brief ceremony at division offices here.

Two Tight Rope Walkers Injured In 50 Foot Fall

Two Injured Before Horrified Eyes Of Socially Prominent Audience In Philadelphia

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 2.—Two tight rope aerialists, members of a troupe known as the Four American Eagles, today were recovering from serious injuries received when they plunged 50 feet to the ground before a horrified, socially prominent gathering at a benefit rodeo and circus here.

One of the acrobats, Theodore Simon, 26, suffered internal injuries and a broken leg. The other, James Gileaser, 24, received a broken collar bone and internal injuries. They have been friends and fellow workers since childhood days in Germany.

Funny man! He makes a mess of his own life and yet feels qualified to boss any number of his offspring.

To Conduct Census Of Business Here

Department Of Commerce Will Conduct Census Among Business Firms

Word has been received by the New Castle Chamber of Commerce that work will be started here this week on a census of business houses of this city, along with other business firms over the country, under the direction of William L. Austin, director of the census of the United States department of commerce.

Funds for the undertaking are being furnished by the Civil War Administration, which will receive the services of 15,000 persons in the United States. Employment will be furnished to approximately one person for every 140 business establishments in the country.

To make it possible to complete the work in the field by February 15, 1934, and to enable business men to supply the information readily, a simple questionnaire has been prepared of but eight questions, contained on a single sheet of paper.

It will be extremely valuable to compare such basic data as employment, salaries and wages, total business, and expenses during a year of depression, 1933, with those obtained in a year of prosperity, 1929.

All information obtained in this manner will be held in strictest confidence by the department of commerce, it is stated.

TAKE X-RAYS TO ASCERTAIN INJURIES

William H. Smith, 39 R. F. D. 3, was taken to the New Castle hospital Saturday afternoon, having fallen from a trestle in the first ward, according to reports. Hospital physicians today took X-rays to determine the extent of his injuries.

No permanent chairman had been elected today.

Proceeds of the dance will be forwarded to the Warm Springs Foundation in Georgia, of which the president is a trustee, to establish a permanent endowment for the institution.

Heroes Who Made Headlines a Decade Ago

What Has Happened in the Last Span of Ten Years?—This Will Refresh Your Memory.

Do you recall these headline personalities and events of 1924? Some will be making the 1934 front page. The article will help you.

By LEVON E. HORTON Central Press Writer.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Headlines of Jan. 1, 1934! Here they are, from the newspapers of a decade ago: "Mellon and Hoover Predict Prosperity for the New Year." "One Hundred Dry Agents Fail to Stop Drinking as New Year Dawns." "Sen. Borah Champions Recognition of Russia; Urges Hearing for Soviet."

"William Muldoon Retires as Boxing Head." "Abie's Irish Rose" and "White Cargo" Score Hit on Broadway.

"Scaramouche" and "Hunchback of Notre Dame," and "Courtship of Miles Standish" Attract Crowds in Picture Houses.

Ten Years Later. Ten years have passed since then. And it is almost staggering to review what has transpired in the world during that span of years.

Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover found that the "world looks hopeful," in his statement to the press with the dawning of the new year in 1924. Little did he anticipate, it is probably safe to say, the hectic days which were to see him rise to the presidency, during an era which was hardly "hopeful."

Secretary of the Treasury Andrew Mellon stated that "During the last year this country has made a remarkable recovery from a severe industrial depression." He said then that all would be well if "the drag of an unsound basis of taxation could be removed."

The World of Money. The United States treasury, he pointed out, closed the year 1923 with a surplus of $310,000,000 above all expenditures chargeable to ordinary receipts.

A "debacle" descended upon Wall street since that New Year's day in 1924. The great industrial network of the nation has been dismantled and is now in a state of repair.

A people which had for years been wealthy has known the ravages of hunger and want. Civilization has advanced, but it has moved ahead to a less carefree, more sober existence.

The 1924 headlines told the story of the futile attempt of prohibition agents to cope with drinking on New Year's eve. Only four arrests were made by 100 agents, though they admitted that there was a "lot of drinking."

The 18th amendment has been repealed since then. The "noble experiment" is now material for history textbooks. "Dry agents" are now only phantoms of a past day.

Recognition of Russia, a thing which Sen. William Borah was fighting for back in the 1924 era, has come to pass. The entire international picture has changed. Germany on the verge of bankruptcy in 1924, has the attention of the world focused upon the moves of its leader, Adolf Hitler, unheard of ten years ago. Italy and Russia have moved on to a new era.

In the Sports World. Even the complexion of the world of sport has changed a lot. The New Year's day papers pointed to the fact that Herbert Pennock, a pitcher with the New York Yankees, won American league pitching honors. Newspapers of a few days ago carried word that Pennock had drawn his release from the Yankees.

Adolph Luque, whose sterling relief qualities figured in the New York Giants' pennant race this last summer, won the National league pitching title in 1923. The New York Yankees and Giants won the pennants in 1923.

The names of William Tilden II and Suzanne Lenglen figured in those days in the headlines heralding tennis news. Jack Dempsey, Mike McTigue, Harry Greb, Mickey Walker, Benny Leonard, Johnny Dundee, Joe Lynch and Pancho Villa were names most often on the lips of the ring fraternity.

On Stage and Screen. On Broadway, Ruth Chatterton was playing in "The Changelings"; Jeanne Eagels in "Rain"; Lionel Barrymore in "Laugh, Clown, Laugh"; Eddie Cantor in "Kid Boots"; and George Cohan in "The Song and Dance Man".

The last two named opened on New Year's eve. Rudy Valentino and Alice Terry were starring in the picture "Scaramouche." Charles Ray was capturing the feminine hearts in "Courtship of Miles Standish." And Lon Chaney was packing them in with his performance in "The Hunchback of Notre Dame."

Times have changed, there is no question about it. Headlines have their parallels through the years. But the story behind the headlines today is vastly different from that of a decade ago.

SAYS CONGRESS WILL SUPPORT PRESIDENT

By HENRY T. RAINEY Speaker of the House of Representatives.

(Written Exclusively for International News Service.) WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Congress will loyally support the policies of President Roosevelt—that much is certain.

The coming congress is an accelerating congress. All we are going to do is to grease the wheels of the machinery already created, and accelerate the movement so that we can hurry up and reach whatever destination we are approaching, and reach it sooner than if we did nothing.

We are legislating for the debtors of the United States. We are leveling off the so-called classes.

We are expanding numbers of the so-called middle classes. We are reducing the aristocracy of wealth to the position of the middle class, and we are promoting the other units until they can assume their position in the middle class.

This is a leveling process we are undergoing and if we don't succeed in our efforts it appears that the alternative is communism, and that is what we want to avoid.

We are on the verge of state capitalism, and there is precious little difference between state capitalism and communism. If there is an argument on either side it is on the side of communism, and nobody is more opposed to communism than I am.

The object of our legislative efforts is to stop before we go too far.

and complete our leveling process by giving to the forgotten man and the common man his chance in life. What we accomplish in the future depends on the sanity of 120,000,000 people. Property rights must be preserved, but the men who toil must get their share of the wealth they produce.

This will be a progressive congress. We have crossed a new industrial frontier. The old times never will return again and what we call the good old times. The good old times were good only for a few.

We are moving away from where we were on the fourth of March. We don't know where or when the movement is going to stop, but we do know that we shall never go back. We are in a period in the history of the world when the youth movement predominates, and young men with young ideas and ideals will control the future. By young men I don't mean young in years but men who adopt the new ideas and ideals.

We don't know where we will be when the movement is ended. The coming congress does not fit into the picture, except as an accelerating congress.

Coughs So Hard He Breaks Rib

(International News Service)

BURNSVILLE, W. Va., Jan. 2.—Dr. E. Trimble's claim for fame today was the coughing championship of Braxton county.

A local physician ill of influenza, Dr. Trimble recently told a visitor: "I cough harder than any man live."

Dr. E. T. W. Hall, of Weston City hospital, confirmed that statement. Examining Dr. Trimble, he discovered a broken rib—cracked by the tremendous effort required to cough.

One of the most elaborate social affairs of the past year in New Castle, was the fourth annual ball of the Wolves club, Monday night, in the beautiful decorated ballroom of the Castleton Hotel.

Some one hundred or more persons had a delightful time. At 7:15 o'clock, the gathering was ushered into the banquet room of the hotel. The room was attractively decorated with holiday colors. A bouquet of flowers adorned the center of each table. As the guests entered the room, they were presented with souvenirs.

Those present then enjoyed a sumptuous dinner. Fruit cocktail, chicken soup, celery, olives, roast turkey, mashed potatoes, buttered peas, cranberry sauce, combination salad, parfait and cake, coffee, nuts and mints constituted the dinner.

During the serving of the meal, the Coppel brothers and Ralph Monaco added color to the affair with their delightful music. Vitus Conti, local man, rendered several pleasing musical solos.

Peter P. Capitola, who acted as toastmaster, then welcomed Dr. and Mrs. Aquaviva, the honored guests of the evening. Mr. Capitola called on Dr. Warren V. Massaro, president of the Wolves who paid a tribute to Dr. Aquaviva.

In behalf of the members of the Wolves club, Mr. Capitola presented Dr. Aquaviva with a beautiful desk set. The young physician thanked the organization for the gift.

The gathering then enjoyed dancing until a late hour. During the evening, several local young women presented an entertaining floor show.

The one hundred or more persons, left the ballroom of the hotel late in the evening, after a most enjoyable event.

The affair proved a success in every detail, due to the untiring efforts of the committee in charge. Peter P. Capitola, A. N. Carbon and Pat Colucci.

Morgenthau Is Treasury Head; Woodin Resigns

Henry Morgenthau, Jr., Is Sworn Into Office As Secretary Of U. S. Treasury

NO CHANGE IN POLICY EXPECTED

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Henry Morgenthau, Jr., of New York City assumed control of the federal government's finances today following induction into office yesterday at the White House as secretary of the treasury.

Morgenthau's appointment was announced by the president immediately following the resignation of William H. Woodin, also of New York, who has been ill in Arizona.

"No change will be made in treasury policy," Morgenthau said.

Baillie To Go

It was indicated that Earl Baillie, special assistant to the secretary, would not be named as undersecretary. Baillie came to Washington with the intention of remaining only a few months, Morgenthau said. His appointment had been criticized by Senator Couzens (R) of Michigan, because of a connection with a New York stock and bond firm.

Officials denied, however, that Couzens' opposition had anything to do with the decision not to appoint Baillie undersecretary, a position which has been held by a distinguished line of appointees including S. Parker Gilbert, former agent general for German reparations, Girard Winston, Ogden L. Mills and A. A. Ballantine.

Strangely Silent Congress Gathers

Capital Is Witnessing One Of Most Unusual Gatherings Of Congress In Years

Legislators Are Not Making Much Noise About Various Pet Hobbies Or Bills

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—The Capital is witnessing one of the most unusual gatherings of the Congress in many years.

Ordinarily the returning legislators stamp into Washington fresh from their constituencies with ambitious programs which they announce they are going to fight for and figuratively die for. Ordinarily they are bringing with them bills and resolutions which they loudly acclaim. Ordinarily, the opposition breathes fire and brimstone against the administration in power.

Skip In Quietly
It's all so different this time. The lawmakers are pouring into Washington on every train for the session that begins next Wednesday, but they are coming quietly, with one eye cocked apprehensively in the direction of the White House. Few are offering any legislative panacea for what ails the country. The legislative hoplites contain only a dozen or so bills, whereas in other years hundreds were on file at this time.

Have Many Bills
They have bills and resolutions, yes, and they plan to introduce them, but they say with apologetic shrugs that of course they will not be pushed if the White House objects.

The reason for this strange condition is two-fold: (1) the administration is so completely in the saddle with its overwhelming Democratic majorities as to make opposition virtually useless, and (2) nearly all the members of Congress are returning to Washington impressed with President Roosevelt's personal popularity in the country. Some of his policies, they admit, are not so popular here and there, but the President himself, they agree, has suffered no diminution in his personal appeal.

Silver Bloc Active
The powerful silver bloc are intent upon completely remonetizing the white metal and are going to

THREE RURAL CARRIERS WILL GET PAY BOOST

Four Routes Here To Be Combined Into Three, It Is Announced

(Special To The News.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 2.—Three rural mail carriers working out of New Castle will get substantial salary increases February 1 when a fourth route there is abolished.

Ralph M. Copper, drawing $1260 on route No. 2, will be dropped, as his appointment was only temporary.

Dividing up his work will yield pay increases as follows: Herbert F. Davidson, from $1830 to $1860, Clarence M. Michael from $1920 to $2370, Albert L. Johnson from $1890 to $2400.

These increases total $990, and in the re-mapping Clarence W. Reiber will have his route cut, with a reduction in pay from $2070 to $1890. The salary abolished is $1890.

The saving results chiefly from a unique feature of the wage scale. On all routes the rate is $75 a mile a year up to 24 miles, but for extensions beyond that distance the rate drops to only $30 a mile a year.

Thus by a policy of longer and fewer routes already about $8,000,000 has been cut from annual R. F. D. costs, it was announced.

Death Of Man Being Probed

Pittsburgh Coroners Probe Mysterious Death Of Man, Woman Is Willed $7,000

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 2.—Deputy coroners and police today were investigating the mysterious circumstances under which Clifford Robbins, 42, of Creighton Hollow, died last night, a short time after making a will bequeathing a $7,000 legacy to Mrs. Nettie Rea.

According to police, Robbins was engaged to the woman.

Officers said Robbins had visited Sunday night at the home of a friend and that yesterday morning when he awoke, he complained of feeling ill. Dr. Charles P. Dickey, who attended Robbins, said he learned Robbins had penned the will which leaves his estate to Mrs. Rea as she sat on the side of a bed in the friend's home.

Four Hundred Thousand In Germany Eligible For Sterilization

(International News Service)
BERLIN, Jan. 2.—Germany's social "health courts," established to mete out decrees of sterilization to habitual sex criminals and the feeble-minded, began to function today.

With 400,000 Germans eligible for sterilization under the law, the government of Chancellor Hitler hopes that his campaign of eugenics will create within a few years a nation sound in mind and body.

The hereditary blind, deaf and dumb and insane are eligible as well as drunkards, sex fiends, epileptics, imbeciles and criminals. Within two years, Germany hopes that no more hereditary criminals will be born, and that within the span of another generation hereditary diseases will cease to exist.

Liquor Clerks Be Cheerful Is Order Given Out

Must Be Gentlemen At All Times; Cannot Drink
While Working;
Must "Smile"

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Jan. 2.—Gloomy faces are taboo in Pennsylvania's
liquor stores which opened today.
Those workers who by nature see only the darker things in life must mask their "blues" under a mechanical smile if they wish to dispense liquor for the Commonwealth.

Even the college graduates and others successful in the civil service examinations for clerkships must be cheerful while doing janitor work about the store. Mopping of windows and sweeping the store as well
as the pavement in front of establishments are some of the tasks
clerks will be required to perform.

These instructions were passed along today by store managers who were given a book of regulations
governing the duties, appearance
and personality of employees.

Employees should be cheerful at all times and show this in their greetings to customers, the instructions stipulated.

Managers and clerks must conduct themselves "with propriety",
remove their hats while at work,
cannot chew tobacco, or smoke
while speaking to a customer, while
"it goes without saying there must be no drinking on duty."

Open At 9 o'clock.

Stores open at 9 a. m. but employees must "punch the clock" at 8:30 so they will have time to do necessary janitor service about the establishment. Those employed at larger stores may escape this task.
The board stated in the book it may provide window washing and janitor
service at these places.

Unless a customer, unfamiliar
with the various brands of liquor,
knows exactly what he wants he may find shopping difficult. No store attaché can recommend one brand of liquor in preference to another and the only printed matter
one will find in establishments are price lists.

Have Two Shifts.

Employees will receive a day of rest on legal holidays at annual vacations will be for only a "reasonable" period. The day's work will be performed by two shifts. One group of employees will work from 8:30 a. m. until 3:30 p. m. and the second from the latter hour until 10 p. m. although all stores close at the stroke of 9. One half hour is permitted for meals.

Their lips must be sealed in connection with information concerning the stores, employees, and business transacted. Information of this nature must come from the district superintendent.

Marriage License Grants During 1933 Show Big Increase

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 2.—"Apparently old man depression is on the run," commented Paul Hackett,
chief clerk of the Marriage License Bureau here, in making public Saturday the number of licenses issued for 1933.

An increase of nearly 1000 licenses issued during the present year over last year was noted by the Marriage License Bureau.

During 1933, a total of 11,441 marriage licenses was issued as compared to 10,456 issued for the year of 1932. During 1931 12,168 licenses were issued as compared with 13,-

Will Not Fight In Mitt Finals

Charles Christopher, a teacher in the Lincoln and Garfield schools
who recently boxed at the Castle

he will not compete in the amateur mitt finals scheduled for January 10 and 11, in Pittsburgh.

Christopher, a 112 pound boxer,
after winning his bout here, was asked to compete in the amateur finals. Lack of time caused him to refuse the offer. Christopher boxed with the Penn State College team
during his college school days.

AROUND CITY HALL

Two of the members of the present council are serving their first terms in official life. They are Joe Alexander and B. F. Butler. Mayor Mayne served as an alderman and later as a councilman. A. A. Hoyland was a school director and D.
O. Davies served several councilmanic terms. The city clerk, W. T.
Burns served as city solicitor from 1888 to 1894 and later served as city councilman. Edna Reimold is serving her third term as secretary to Mayor Mayne to which are coupled
the duties of councilmanic stenographer.

Neil Williams, an employee of the city engineer's department is a handy man to have around; at least he is in the opinion of the clerks to figure taxes. He is a human arithmetic. For about 15 years
he has made it a practice to compile a schedule on blueprints, which is nothing more than a reference sheet, though it takes oodles of hours to compile it. By scanning the schedule the clerks can tell how much tax one must pay. For instance the assessment, which may run from $10 to $50,000, is shown on the schedule after which the schedule shows how much tax for general
revenue, sinking fund and library purposes, each must pay. In the last column the three tax amounts are totalled.

Lieutenant of police, Ralph Criswell will be on the job by the time this appears. It will be his duty to "See the town by night" and according to the schedule arranged between Police Chief Haven and Criswell the night lieutenant is apt to be any place at any time. Criswell will not be a desk man, and by that,
it is meant he will not confine himself to the office. He will be a night boss, inspector and detective combined. He may not be so old in years
but from what some of his friends say, he has an old head on a young man's shoulder.

One of the first problems the new city council will have to solve is whether the proposed parapet wall
along the Croton Avenue side of the Neshannock creek will be of stone or brick. It had been planned to secure 100,000 brick. The plan was abandoned by the old council and it was intimated the wall which will be of an ornamental design though for guard purposes, would be of stone. It will be constructed level with the sidewalk and extend three feet high. It will run from the Tool-house to Walnut street.

The city will soon have to pay the regular annual installment for the Gamewell police alarm system and according to members of council the toll for 1934 will be about $1,043.
The city bought the system under the lease plan. When about $15,000
is paid the city will own "the system."
The fire department had a Gamewell

well fire alarm system long before
the city bought the police alarm system.

The police department quota calls for 48 men. There are 44 on the force. The new equipment to be secured will cost about $4,000. Were the department at its full strength it would be necessary to pay out approximately $6,000, more which means that if the department operates at no more than its present quota during 1934 the city will have saved several thousand dollars. It is said that the days of the foot patrolman are passe, excepting for the movement of traffic in places where lights cannot successfully work. Almost every "hot call" for police comes direct to the police station, hence the cry for fast cars
and sufficient men there to man the cars.

It would be a good idea for some of the citizens to take advantage of their privileges and visit council chambers while city council is in session. It is seldom that a citizen,
other than one bent on transacting
business, listens to the proceedings.
Not all the councilmen agree on every piece of business that is transacted and its enlightening to hear the various opinions expressed by the men whom represent the people. It is not yet known whether there will be a change as to how many times council will meet formally each week. Some years ago council met twice weekly. During a former administration this procedure was changed to two sessions. However, on some days, especially Friday, there generally is a volume of business. It is seldom that a council meets in a session behind doors. Such a meeting would be termed a "star chamber" session.

Yes, Ethel, King Solomon knew a

Stubborn Coughs Ended by Recipe, Mixed at Home

Big Saving! No Cooking! So Easy!

Here is the famous old recipe which fills the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It takes but a moment to prepare, and costs very little, but it positively has no equal for quick, lasting relief.
From any drugist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with granulated sugar syrup, made with 2 cups of sugar and one cup of water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed—it's so easy! Thus you make a full pint of better remedy than you could buy ready-made, and you get four times as much for your money. It never spoils and children love its taste.
This simple mixture soothes and heals the inflamed throat membranes with surprising ease. It loosens the germ-laden phlegm and eases chest sore-ness in a way that is really astonishing.
Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, the most reliable healing agent for severe coughs.
It is guaranteed to give prompt relief
or money refunded.

Several Sentences Given By Mayor In First '34 Court

Numerous Offenders Face
Mayor Mayne On New Year's Morning

Mayor Charles Mayne presided in police court New Year's day and handed out several gifts in the form of a jail sentence and fines. A man who gave the name of George Fraley was given 30 days in the county jail for allegedly mistreating his crippled wife and child.

Walter Lichtenstein was fined $25 and costs. He is alleged to have been drinking and his car struck
another machine in the South Side.
The fine was paid.

Three young men who gave the names of Tony Ross, Michael Smiley and Al De Palma were fined $5
and costs each on a charge of fighting.

Following an accident in which his car is said to have hit that of Joseph Caravella in Phillips street,
a man who gave the name of Charles DeCarbo was arrested on a charge of suspicion, put up a forfeit, but was not in police court.

Norman Ketchell, Struthers, was also arrested on a charge of suspicion. His case was not disposed of Monday.

For annoying people in the tabernacle, South Mill street, Fred Nadodone, a boy, was ordered to appear before Mayor Mayne. He is said to have been opening and slamming shut the door and was caught.

The first arrest made after the bells sounded in the new year was on a charge of intoxication. However, he was discharged without being forced to pay for his police
"taxicab" ride.

Officers Elected By Star Of Wales

Griffith Phillips Chosen Head
Of Welsh Lodge; Other
News By Brython

By WILLIAM A. JOHNS
Brython

A very interesting meeting was held last Saturday evening, December 30, by the members of the Star
of Wales Lodge No. 60, True Ivorites of America, when the following officers were elected for the year 1934:

Past president, Joseph Pugh; president, Griffith Phillips; vice president, Thomas Grey; financial secretary, Thomas D. Thomas; treasurer, Daniel Hughes; recording secretary, William A. John (Brython);
steward, Isaac Isaacs; conductor,
Llewellyn Thomas; inside guardian,
Harry Davies; outside guardian,
James B. Evans; trustees, Henry T.
Jones; Thomas Grey and Griffith
Thomas; auditor, Joseph Pugh.
Griffith Phillips and Thomas Grey.

The question of celebrating St.
David's Day, the first of March,
came before the members of the lodge but a motion passed to have the opinion of the members of Martha lodge first before arranging anything for the event.

Very sad news has come to the Brython from his home at Morris-
ton, informing him that his brother,
David Johns, of Martin street, Morriston, missed his foot on the stairs
at his home and fell down from the top to the bottom. He is a very sick man and his age, 68 years, is coming against him.

Griffith Thomas, of Park avenue,
a member of the school board,
pleased the audience at the Emmanuel Baptist church with his preaching to such a degree that the members of the church passed a resolution to invite him to fill the pulpit for two Sunday evenings each month. Mr. Thomas to select the Sundays.

Word has come to John Davies, of Park avenue, of the death of his cousin, John Davies, at his home in Jersey City. Mr. Davies was born
at Llandovery, Swandea, South Wales,
and came to the United States over 40 years ago. He was a poet of great ability. A few years ago he was the winner of a chair at the eldest of the First Congregational of New Castle. He was well known in New Castle and the Welsh
are in sympathy with his family.

Mrs. Mary Strimwater, of Park avenue, has been removed to a hospital in Cleveland, Ohio.

Next Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock the members and friends of the Emmanuel Baptists church will hold a prayer and song service at the Alhambra Home. Among those who will take part will be Mrs. Mary Jones, Brinley Hughes, Mrs. William

P. Vogan, Bobby Evans, Miss Eva
Jones, Miss Ruth Hughes and Miss Vivian Jones.

Sherwood Johns, of Park avenue,
has returned to his studies at Bethany College, West Virginia, after two weeks with his father, Prof. R.
E. Johns, and family.

CHILD HAS HAND CAUGHT IN WRINGER

While playing about while her

noon, little Lotta Veazey, aged two sustained painful injuries.

The little tot's hand was caught in the wringer and crushed. She was brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital for treatment.

STATE LIQUOR STORE SYSTEM IN OPERATION

Part Of Stores In State Open

Expect To Have 238 Stores
In Operation Within
Two Weeks

LIQUOR MONOPOLY IS HELD BY STATE

By G. EVERETT DOYING
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Jan. 2.—The commonwealth today took over the monopoly of wholesale and retail sales of liquor—except by drink—through a chain-store system of state stores stocked with more than two million gallons of alcoholic beverages.

Only about 90 of the original allotment of 238 stores in the state were ready to open for business at 9 a. m. But the state liquor control board promised the others will be opened within two weeks. Twenty-one stores opened in Philadelphia. The others were scattered throughout the state.

Shelves were laden with an array of about 5,000 bottles each. In the larger establishments all of the more than 200 brands of liquor announced in the board's official price list were available.

Any brand, whether it be Russian vodka or Chinese rice whiskey, will ultimately be obtainable at the stores. Under the law any brand not in supply can be ordered, a small deposit being required.

Purchases Huge Stock.
The board has spent $12,000,000 purchasing liquor to stock the stores with everything from bitters to bottled in bond whiskey. Retail prices to the consumers, who, incidentally, must do their consuming off the store premises, range from 45 cents for a pint of some wines to $7 a quart for bottled-in-bond rye.

The board hopes to reduce prices later when the first rush has subsided and the liquor industry becomes more stabilized.

The administration hopes the stores will make a net profit of $28,000,000 in the first year. Added to this sum will be at least $12,500,000 from the pre-repeal floor tax on liquor to be expended for old age pensions, blind pensions, unemployment relief, a state public works program and to recompense the state for the loss occasioned by repeal of the 4-mill tax on interest bearing bank deposits.

Hôtels, restaurants and clubs holding licenses to sell liquor by the drink will buy their liquor from the stores at a 15 per cent discount.

Employees of the state stores received their final instructions yesterday. The bank-like stores will be open daily from 9 in the morning until 9 at night except Sundays, holidays and election days. Each store has from two to ten employees according to its size.

Creation of the state store system gave Pennsylvania the only large liquor monopoly in the country and plunged it into a business that will undoubtedly, if successful, become a million dollar industry.

Racketeering Fight Starts

Beaver Falls' Newly Inaugurated Mayor Starts War
On Racketeering

POLICE OFFICERS HANDLED ORDERS

(International News Service)

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Jan. 2.—Determined to drive out racketeers, newly inaugurated Mayor Dennis Mutscheller today was expected to climax his second day in office by transmitting orders to police to stop racketeering operations in this community.

In his inaugural speech, Mutscheller said:

"Each city employee, especially the police over which I have direct control, is expected to do his duty without fear or favor. Every citizen will be treated fairly and honestly. There will be no undercover men or fixers in the police department."

McNair's Choice Meets Opposition

Pittsburgh Council Not In Accord With Safety
Director Selection

NOT LIKELY TO BE CONFIRMED

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 2.—Confronted with the apparent impossibility of having his choice as safety director confirmed by city council, Mayor William N. McNair today began his second 24 hours as the first Democratic chief executive of Pittsburgh in 27 years.

No one—and that in all likelihood included McNair—was sure what would happen before nightfall.

With the air of a dictator, McNair, following his inauguration, presented the names of four cabinet members and obtained confirmation of them. These were Treasurer James P. Kirk, Health Director Dr. Ray P. Moyer, Solicitor Cornelius D. Scully, and Chief Assessor Percy R. Williams.

Expect Battle.
However, the choice political plume, the positions as directors of public safety, public works and property and supplies, were put before council during yesterday's ceremony.

The mayor's choice of safety director—James F. Malone—was expected to be the first stumbling block for the new administration.

Councilman William J. Scott, last of the regular Republican members of council, said today that if his vote should be the balance of power, it would be thrown against the confirmation of Malone.

The hospital record:

New Year Is Given Enthusiastic Greeting

In weather that felt more like spring, 1934 arrived at midnight Sunday, free of worry and care, and ready to take up the burden that 1933 found too heavy to lug with him as he passed down the corridor to the Valhalla of Years.

New Castle welcomed him a little more noisily than usual this year, and certainly more enthusiastically. The spirit was better and the spirits easier to get. Long before midnight Washington street looked like a busy Saturday night, long quest of customers stood outside the theatres, the dance spots were crowded and apparently everybody wanted the new year to get the idea that he was welcome in a big way.

Guns And Whistles.
Down in the industrial district hoarse whistles were steaming a welcome, here and there a few guns were fired, automobiles shrieked their greetings and radios blared out the welcome in other cities as it waited over the ether.

Churches seemed to have unusually large crowds of worshippers at watch night services, private parties in homes met the new year with "here's how" and over it all there

It is his boast that he never injured anyone, never lost a day by being late to work, and never was on the carpet.

WELL DRESSED COAT OFTEN BLACK

The well dressed coat often is black and accompanied by matching accessories. This handsome black caracul, worn by Hedda Hopper, screen player, has a blue fox collar, and with it is worn black hat, gloves and oxfords. The all black coat is as great a favorite for evening wear as it is for daytime. Long black velvet coats with hoods or draped collars of the same material are fashionable. Black is the wise choice of the girl or woman whose pocketbook will not permit her to have many changes of costume, and especially is this true of an evening wrap.

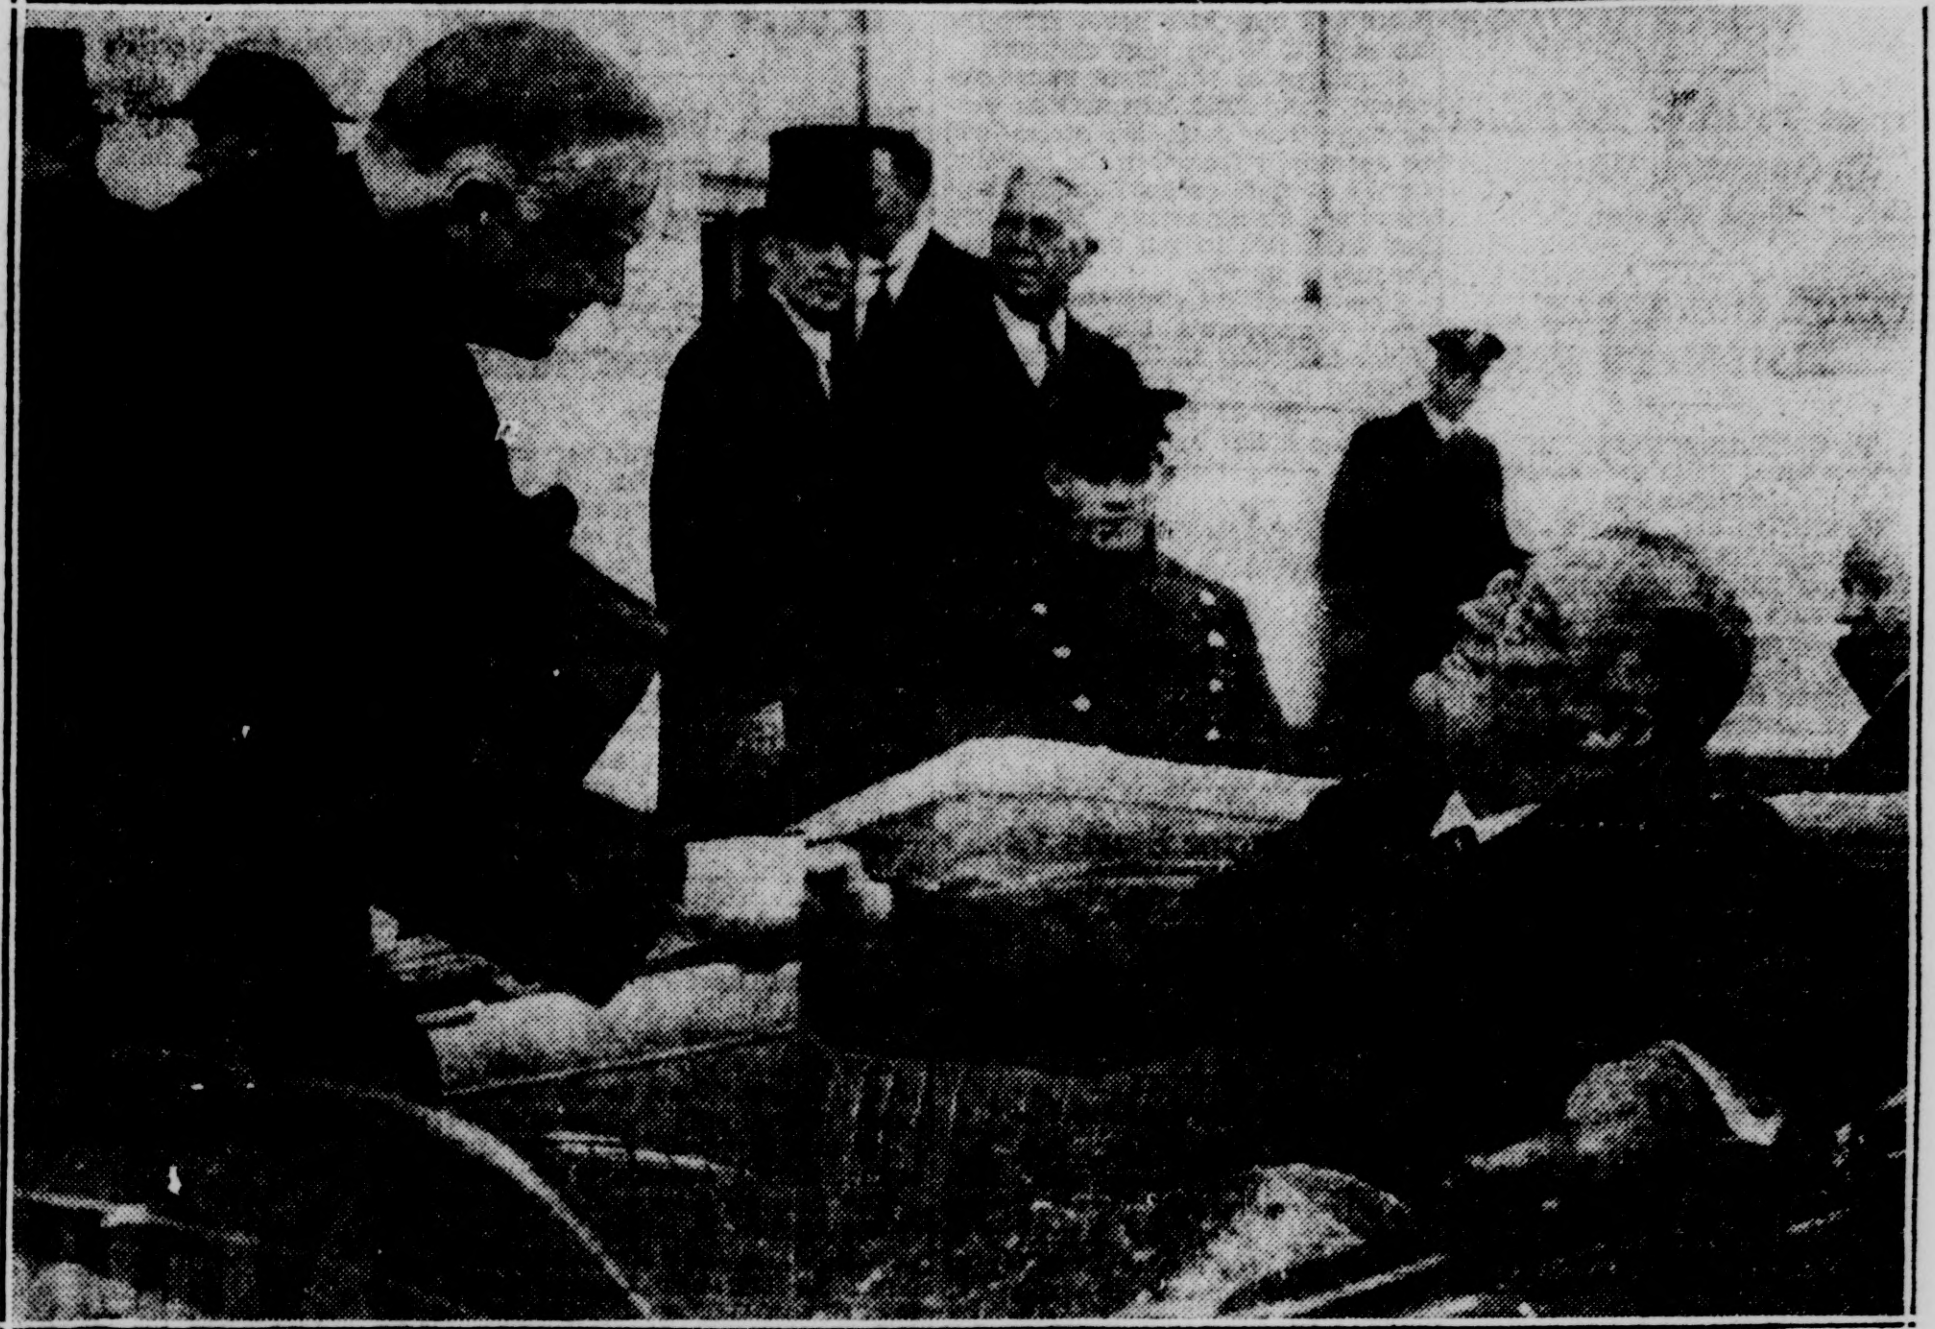

COLLEGE GIRLS ADOPT FIFTH BABY

Tiny "Virginia Strawn" being given her breakfast by Miss Lykens. Hood college girls of the home economics department at Frederick, Md., have adopted their fifth baby to care for during the academic year and named her Virginia Strawn, after Strawn cottage, where the baby lives with its 15 young mothers. Virginia is being given her breakfast by Miss Grace C. Lykens, Philadelphia, Pa., home economics student. Two boys and two girls have been successfully "raised" by the girls in preceding years. The babies are taken from an institution or from a family financially unable to care for it, and returned at the end of the year.

As 1933's "Biggest Story" Was Enacted

Editors throughout the country in assembling the "big stories" in the news of 1933 present a varied selection. They all agree, however, on the "biggest story" of the year—the inauguration of Franklin D. Roosevelt on March 4. Here is an unusually fine picture on that memorable occasion. Herbert Hoover, retiring as the nation's chief executive, greets his successor as he enters the car at the White House to drive to the Capitol where the oath was administered to the new President. New York Eleven Surprises Stanford And Rain-Soaked Crowd

BARABAS SCORES ON TRICK PLAY

By GEORGE T. DAVIS, International News Service Sports Writer

PASADENA, Cal., Jan. 2.—Standford 0, Columbia 7. What happened?

It's no mystery at all to the 25,000 spectators who braved the rain in the Rose bowl New Year's day to watch a fighting "under-dog" from the East outspeed and outsmart a heavily-favored western foe.

Columbia had what Stanford lacked—experience.

Barabas Scores

The Lions cashed in on their opportunity, sucking the Indians out of position while Al Barabas circled left end for 15 yards and a touchdown.

The Indians, while powerful in mid-field, were not so resourceful. It was the old story of youthful sophomores against experienced seniors.

Lou Little's Columbias handed the Indians a lesson in line charging, offsetting a tremendous weight advantage with speed.

Cliff Montgomery, ace back of the Lions, was as fine an all-around player as we've seen this year, cutting off a tremendous weight advantage with speed.

Grayson Good

Stanford had his Bobby Grayson, who was unstoppable until the light line of the lions was driven against its own goal line. Here the invaders from the East dug their cleats into the soggy turf and dared the mighty Cardinals to score.

Stanford lacked goal-line punch, which coupled with far fewer fumbles, could have produced a decisive victory.

A rain-soaked crowd left the bowl, singing the praises of Columbia but still the thought "Stanford might have won" was there. But one plays off on the score, not the yardage stick which showed that the Reds far out-gained their rivals.

Stanford Napping

Two quick plays that caught the Indians napping resulted in Columbia's lone tally in the second quarter. Montgomery tossed a beautiful pass right over Grayson's head and the alert Anthony Matal grabbed it for a first down on the 17-yard line.

Two plays later, Montgomery saw that topping, Card right end, and Hamilton right halfback, were in too close and he sent Barabas circling around this unguarded flank for 15 yards and a score without anyone laying a hand on him. Barabas then added the extra point with an accurate place kick.

Deserved Victory

The score was well-deserved too, for the Lions had been pounding at the gates throughout the first and second periods. Time and again the speed of Montgomery drove the Cardinals far back in their own territory only to have Corbus and Maentz recover fumbles.

Both the eastern and western representatives fumbled often due to the slippery ball.

Just as the Cardinals were badly out-played in the first half, they came back to completely dominate the third and fourth quarters.

Pittsburgh Five Will Play Here

Ne Ca Hi Cards Pittsburgh South High For Basketball Game Friday

New Castle High School Basketball team will play one more non-league game before starting the Section Three grind, and this game will bring the strong Pittsburgh South High team to George Washington gym. The South High team last year was runner-up for the state championship. New Castle defeated South last year in the opening game of the season.

Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh is not very well pleased with the showing of his veterans at New Kensington last week when they dropped 29 to 16. Coach LeVander is determined to have the New Castle team at top speed against South High and has ordered serious workouts for every day this week.

South Is Good

South High with Washabaugh at the helm will bring practically a veteran team to New Castle. The South High team has walked all over the opposition this year and hope to defeat New Castle.

Unless the New Castle team snaps out of it, Bridenbaugh will use several of his reserves. The locals played listless basketball at New Kensington. They are capable of doing better.

The Section Three season for New Castle starts on January 12th with New Castle playing at New Brighton.

Agenda Club To Open League In Ohio Wednesday

Ninth Annual Jewish Floor League At Youngstown Finds Agendas With Strong Team

Agenda Jewish basketball club of New Castle is preparing to open the ninth annual Jewish floor league at Youngstown, O., on Wednesday evening. The Agenda club team will play a new team in the league hailing from Warren, Ohio. The games are being played this year at the Armory floor at the corner of Fifth and Rayen avenues.

The Agenda Club will enter the league with five veteran players on hand, and together with the five veterans who won the junior championship last year will present a strong lineup.

The following players are asked to meet at the "Y" at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening to make the trip to Youngstown—"Sak" Levin, Dave Rogovin, Swirsky, S. Rosenberg, Joe Solomon, Shifman, Hy Levine, Heary Levine, H. Rosenberg, Izzy Solomon, Baron and Manager Harry Levine. A large crowd of Agenda Club members will follow the locals to Ohio.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Due to heavy downpours of rain a low record for attendance was set at Rose bowl, Pasadena, New Year's day. Only 40,000 spectators witnessed Stanford fall to Columbia 7 to 0.

Beauty and pomp prevailed at Miami where Duquesne smothered Miami 33 to 7.

Frank Parker, Milwaukee, 17, who is the national clay court champion captured the Union high building tennis crown Monday at New York when he beat Gilbert Hall, Jr., Washington in straight sets in the final.

Louis Soreli, Carnera's Italian manager, has given sanction to Carnera to fight Tommy Loughran at Miami, February 22.

Union A. A. To Meet Wednesday

Members of the Union A. A. are asked by President Ed King to be present at an important meeting to be held at the Union high building on Wednesday evening. The meeting will start at 7:30 o'clock, according to announcement from H. W. "Bill" Sontum.

Dempsey May Help Promote New York Bout

Madison Square Garden Officials Will Confer With Dempsey On Baer-Carnera Fight

By DAVIS J. WALSH, International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Within a matter of weeks, officials of Madison Square Garden and Jack Dempsey will sit down at the same table to discuss details of a half-million-dollar Max Baer-Primo Carnera fight for the heavyweight championship in June or July, the writer was informed today by Andy Hoffman, manager of Baer. The conference, he said, had been solicited by John Kippick, president of the Garden, who first tried to interest Hoffman personally and then turned his attention to Dempsey after he learned that the manager could not be persuaded to abandon his liaison with the former champion.

"They asked me to bring Dempsey to see them," Hoffman added. "I take it they mean to declare Jack in as co-promoter and I don't see why not? His name will add $100,000 to any gate."

Dempsey, scheduled to leave immediately for the east, will first confer with Hoffman in Washington, D. C., then will come on to New York for the Garden conference.

The result, it now seems inevitable, will be an agreement whereby Baer is to get his chance at the heavyweight championship and Dempsey his spot in the promotion. At the moment, the Garden controls Carnera up to and including September 30 next. Dempsey, meantime, seems to have an even stronger hold upon Baer and I trust I'm not being ingenuous in mentioning the matter of honor. Anyhow, Mr. Hoffman did.

"We have no contract with him," said he, apparently a little abashed by this unwanted show of sentiment. "He's got plenty and this is our way of paying it."

He added something doubtful about feeling sure that "Jack wouldn't stand in their way" but indicated that, as far as he was concerned, he didn't stand to let developments arrive on that basis.

Of course, anything in connection with a Baer-Carnera fight is predicated on an if-when-and-provided understanding that Carnera does not blow the title to Tommy Loughran down in Miami on February 22.

All-West Team Hands Defeat To All-East Stars

Score Of 12 to 0 In Favor Of West In Charity Game At San Francisco

(International News Service) SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 2.—George Sauer, all-American full-back of Nebraska, is the football hero who will be remembered from the ninth annual East-West shrine charity game here.

Sauer stole the show at the 1934 New Year's day game by scoring the West's two touchdowns in the first period to give his all-star teammates, recruited from western universities, a 12 to 0 victory. Sauer also was the man who halted an Eastern touchdown march on the West's one yard line.

Driving with the full power and speed of his 195 pounds, Sauer carried the ball over from the five yard line for the first score. A few minutes later he chalked up the second score on a pretty 25-yard run through right tackle.

The sixth victory of the West and concept of a surprise to the 35,000 spectators who had anticipated an East triumph.

Veterans Face Pension Losses

More Than 29,000 Soldier Veterans On Service Connected Disabilities May Be Cut Off

EXPECT APPEALS FROM THOUSANDS

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—More than 29,000 war veterans drawing pensions on the basis of service connected disabilities faced loss of their compensations today under rulings of special boards of review established last March by President Roosevelt. The number, 29,258, represents 57.13 per cent of the 51,213 cases investigated. The remainder, or 21,955 were found to be service connected and compensation was allowed by the 1928 boards in charge of the survey.

In announcing the decision, Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines of the veterans administration emphasized that every veteran whose disability has been denied service connection by the boards has the right to appeal to a final board recently appointed by the president. Thousands of such appeals are expected.

The review was completed on Nov. 30, a month later than the original date planned.

During the time of the survey all veterans whose cases were under review have been receiving 75 per cent of the amounts they received prior to July 1 when the economy act became effective.

Pennsy Official's Outlook Favorable

Vice President Smith, In State-ment, Foresees Gain In Business

Confident that 1934 holds for America a "broader industrial activity than has been enjoyed in the year just closed," Vice President E. W. Smith, of the Pennsylvania railroad's Central region at Pittsburgh, expressing his views Monday on the outlook for industry and trade in the new year, declared that "all of us now realize that the foundations of our economic structure are still firmly intact and that while new problems confront us, the stored up wisdom and experience of the past, coupled with our own study and experimentation, should enable us to make adjustments and take action looking toward continued improvement and progress."

The railroad vice president pointed out that "this realization that the slough of despond is no place for lively, upstanding Americans and that the difficulties ahead can be coped with and solved is, to my mind, the most hopeful factor in the outlook for 1934 and the years to follow."

Directly referring to the business outlook, Mr. Smith said:

"We are practically assured, I think, of a somewhat heavier volume of business and trade, and broader industrial activity in 1934 than has been enjoyed in the year just closed. A study of the various business indices and trends and examination of the plans and estimates of business leaders for the next 12 months clearly indicates this to be a strong possibility."

The country has scraped the bottom of the depression and the adjustment of industry and business to the government codes has all helped to cast favorable influences on next year's outlook, the Pennsylvania official asserted.

Arguments Made On Mandamus By The Thayer Co.
Motion To Quash Is Heard By Judges Hildebrand And Chambers Today

POINT INVOLVED IS ONE OF DISCRETION
Arguments on a motion of County Controller R. C. McCaslin to quash the mandamus brought by the Thayer Company, architects, to compel the controller to issue a warrant for the payment of $7,800, architects' fees, were heard before Judges Hildebrand and Chambers this morning.

Attorney Orville Brown represented the controller, arguments also being presented in his behalf by Attorney C. H. Aiken. Attorneys William D. Cobau and W. Walter Braham appeared for the Thayer Company. The arguments took up the entire forenoon. They hinged around the question of whether or not the approval of the bid is a discretionary or ministerial act.

Both sides seemed to agree that an act passed in 1929 abrogated former procedure in the erection of a courthouse. Before the passage of this act if two grand juries recommended a courthouse the county commissioners had a right to go ahead with it.

Under the act of 1929 the matter appears to have been left to the county commissioners with the approval of the court. It was contended, however, by attorneys for the controller, that the county commissioners can go ahead with selection of a site and plans for the erection of the courthouse, but when it comes to amounts to be paid, the controller has the right to exercise his discretion as to whether the bills are reasonable or exorbitant.

Attorneys for the Thayer Company took a different view, claiming that the act of 1929 vests all the power in the county commissioners and the court, and that the controller simply acts in a ministerial capacity in approving their acts.

There has been no direct supreme court opinions on the question involved, but several other opinions, which it was claimed should govern the case were recited by both sides.

The question was also raised as to whether or not the mandamus should not have been drawn differently, the commonwealth joining. The court will hand down an opinion later.

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 2.—Young Gallaher Nuptials Monday

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 2.—In the galaxy of New Year's day brides one of the most charming was Miss Pearl Winifred Young, daughter of Mrs. Clara Young of Crescent avenue, who chose this day to become the bride of John Glenn Gallaher, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Gallaher of the Wurtenburg road.

The wedding ceremony was performed at 6 o'clock at the parsonage of the Wurtenburg U. P. church with the pastor, Rev. John E. Caughey, serving as officiant, using the single ring ceremony in the presence of a few intimate friends.

An Eleanor blue gown of silk crepe made in the modern mode was chosen by the bride as her wedding gown and a shoulder corsage of pink and white rose buds accentuated the loveliness of her ensemble. Miss Audrey Paye Gallaher, a sister of the bridegroom, attended the bride and was attired in an ensemble of flamingo crinkle crepe and she wore a corsage of rose buds. Wilbert S. Cowan of Ellwood City served as groomsmen.

After the reading of the marriage service a wedding dinner and reception was tendered the bridal party and members of the immediate families at the bride's home on Crescent avenue. Covers were arranged for 20 at two festively appointed tables with a large wedding cake flanked with a cluster of roses. The hostess was assisted in receiving and serving by Misses Martha Milleman of Evans City, Margaret Fehl and Mrs. Fred Mooney.

Mr. and Mrs. Gallaher are both well known in this vicinity, having attended the local high school and the former also attended Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh and now conducts an inspection station at Wurtenburg.

Dispensing with a wedding trip for the present they will be at home to their friends at 935 Crescent avenue.

NEW COUNCILMEN ALSO SPEAK BRIEFLY

Treser And Genkinger Retire With Records Of Real Achievement

"Before we adjourn the first session of the new council I would like to hear some remarks from our brothers who are leaving as councilmen," said Mayor Charles Mayne, Monday morning when the new council convened in city hall.

Director of streets and public improvement, Stanley Treser was the first to respond and said that he desired to thank the members of the old council for their cooperation during their term in city office.

He said that he hoped the new members of council would have the cooperation of the men with whom he served and expressed the belief they would and also said: "I believe with them, the new council will be the best the city has had."

Applause greeted his retiring speech after which Louis Genkinger, who served as head of the department of parks and property and acted as purchasing agent remarked: "The King is dead, Long live the King."

The words evoked friendly laughter.

ter from citizens after which Genkinger became serious and said that he was proud to have served as a member on the council which passed out of existence Monday.

He said that at times council had been criticised justly and upon other occasions unjustly, but added that the body had gone through the worst crisis the country has ever known very successfully.

City In Good Financial Condition Genkinger pointed out that New Castle is the best financially situated Third class city in the State of Pennsylvania.

He told how the Mayor's Relief committee workmen had accomplished $100,000 worth of improvements at a cost to the city of about $5,000. And he pointed out emphatically that no politics had ever been allowed to enter into this work.

"In fact" Genkinger declared "this work is the cleanest I have had the pleasure to be connected with." He told how, at cities conventions, they could scarcely believe the success which had been achieved here.

He said he is proud of what the old council accomplished and remarked: "I wish the new council success and to everybody in the city, Godspeed and a Happy New Year."

His departing speech was applauded after which the new members were called upon and Mr. Alexander was the first to reply. He said he desired to thank the electors for their confidence in him and he said he will serve honestly and as efficiently as possible and that he is open for suggestions. He said that "If I can as well as the departing members I will feel as though I have paid my debt to the electors."

"Will Have Mind Of Own"

Mr. Butler was next and said that "Sometimes the people do not take deep enough interest in city matters. He said, "it is a corporation the people should become more interested in it. He said it is his desire to do everything a good officer should do and will be open to suggestions." This is not saying we will not have a mind of our own, because we will," said Butler after which he expressed thanks to the old council for the information which had been furnished him during the past week or more.

Mr. Davies said he was proud of the record made by the old council of which he was a member and said he is glad that his name will be on the records as a member of the body during the worst crisis the country has known. He said Mr. Genkinger and Treser had cooperated with all members and said the new council would work hard for the people during the next few years.

Mr. Howland said that when he entered office "I was scared." He pointed out the grave financial situation that faced the city but added that through harmonious cooperation the city now is in splendid condition and in closing said: "I cannot speak too glowingly of the departing members."

Controller Wimer Speaks Mayor Charles Mayne called upon Controller Wimer who said that to him it is a new leaf in life. He said he would cooperate with city officials and he desired their cooperation. He said he would work for the benefit of the citizens without regard to the number of hours he had to put in.

The mayor followed with the declaration that "I have not got the words I would like to have to say for the outgoing members for to appreciate the efforts they have put forward for the citizens during the past several years."

He dealt with taxation and said that 50 percent of the people have not been able to pay their bills and that the taxes have not been coming in. He said that despite outstanding taxes of $300,000, the financial condition of the city is excellent.

The mayor said that "this did not just happen" but explained it was due to cooperation between the members of the old council and said that when times become normal and the back taxes are paid the taxes will be cut down.

Budgets Cut In actual expenditures he said three sevenths had been cut off the budget during the last few years. He told how the members of the old council had voluntarily returned a portion of their salaries each month to the city.

Solicitor Robert White was called upon and he said that "I am sorry always to see councilmen leave and particularly sorry to see Councilman Genkinger leave." White declared that Genkinger as a councilman had a human interest in the job and told of beautifying parks and the Public Square.

He paid a high compliment to Treser, who was head of the department of streets when he declared: "According to statistics in my office we had less complaints when Treser was in charge than during any previous term."

GOVERNMENT WINNING WAR OF BIG TIME GUNMEN

By THOMAS F. CULLEN International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—The federal government chalked up another victory in its war against big time gunmen and bank "stick up" men with the capture of Wilbur Underhill in Shawnee, near the bad lands of Oklahoma the "hideout" spot of the country, renowned through the years as the secret "lying up" place for criminals from the Jesse James gang to Al Spencer and the Bailey-Underhill mob.

Underhill, a mean, vicious, unhesitating gunman was a little too slow today and Ralph Colvin, "DJ" roundup expert, who has been after him since the Kansas City massacre June 17, 1933, and who took Bailey and Kelley his associates, scored once more against the mobsters.

Harvey Bailey and Wilbur Underhill have been recognized for a long time by the denizens of the underworld as the "All American" bank holdup men of the day.

And Underhill is said by all his associates to be the most dangerous of the gang.

Bailey worked with him many times but always with some repudiation. Bailey liked to "pull" clean jobs, while Underhill never was slow to shoot.

They came into unusual prominence on May 30, last, when they were in Kansas State penitentiary.

and during a baseball game, flashed guns which had been smuggled in to them, kidnaped the warden and went over the wall.

The warden was held hostage by the gang for many hours before finally being released. It was through the good offices of Bailey that his life was spared. Underhill is said to have wanted to "give him the works."

Underhill became of interest to the federal government after the Kansas City massacre in which three state officers and a department of justice agent were killed at the Union Station when Underhill, Bailey, Verne Miller and others attacked them with machine guns in an effort to take their prisoner Frank Nash, another bank bandit, from the officers. Nash was also killed.

Since then the "DJ" has been close on the trail of the mob. Bailey was caught in connection with the Urschel kidnaping, as was George "Machine Gun" Kelly. Verne Miller was put on the "spot" by Detroit gangsters and Jim Brady another of the "boys" was taken near Tucumcari, N. M., last summer.
